

Thomas Holyoke

Assistant Director
Research and Education Division
tholyoke@csufresno.edu

Dr. Thomas Holyoke is Professor of Political Science at Fresno State and Assistant Director of Research and Education at the California Water Institute. He received his Ph.D. from The George Washington University in 2004 and is a specialist in interest group politics, education policy, and western water policy. He is also the author of over three-dozen research articles and book chapters, as well as four books, the most recent of which is Water Politics: The Fragmentation of Western Water Policy published in 2023 by Routledge.

California Water Institute

Division of Research and Education

The Division connects academia to the water community to solve water management challenges through education and research. To achieve this, the division engages faculty and students in developing interdisciplinary, inclusive, research-based solutions to water challenges for a sustainable water future.

Contact Information

2703 E Barstow Ave JC 133
Fresno, CA 93740

 @FSCWI
559-278-7001